DGS Advisor Advice
"Always be open to the ways your adventures guide you toward your major and new understandings. I signed up to become a second grade camp counselor because it was an expense paid summer in the Washington D.C. area. That adventure not only gave me the courage to switch my major from Broadcast Journalism to Elementary Education, it also allowed me to recognize my passion for understanding people, experience, culture, and the factors that play into decision making. Be mindful, reflect, evaluate, and be ready for change!"
-Leslie Lewis

"Take advantage of the amount of different majors on this campus. There’s something for everyone, so use your time in DGS to explore your interests and find something you will enjoy going into."
